Rachel Macaibay

Photosynthesis:
Chlorophyll breaks down and the color of green begins to fade. New colors start to appear, such as yellow and orange

Rust:
Iron reacts with water and oxygen. This forms iron oxide, which gives the appearance of rust.

Combustion:
Generation of heat and light in the form of a flame

Senescence / Decomposition :
Process of flower decay and aging
